

Dr. William F. Dryden

18 December 1941 – 25 Oct 2012

The Department of Pharmacology deeply regrets to announce the sudden and untimely passing of Dr. Bill Dryden. He grew up in Paisley, just west of Glasgow, Scotland and received a BSc in Pharmacy from the University of Glasgow and a PhD in Pharmacology from the University of Strathclyde. Following postdoctoral studies in Neuroscience at the University of Pennsylvania, Bill returned to Strathclyde as a lecturer. He was appointed to the faculty in the Department of Pharmacology in 1976 where he remained until his retirement in 2008. He was acting chair of the Department between 1991 and 1992 and served as director of the Centre for Neuroscience between 1995 and 1999. His insight, breadth of knowledge, collegiality and sense of humour will be fondly remembered. He is survived by his wife Angela, three children Colin, Gillian and Anna and one grandchild.
