19TH WORLD CONGRESS OF BASIC & CLINICAL PHARMACOLOGY

PARTNERSHIP PROSPECTUS

On behalf of the International Scientific Committee and the British Pharmacological Society we are delighted to announce that the 19th World Congress of Basic and Clinical Pharmacology – WCP2022 will be held from 17 to 22 July 2022 at the SEC, Glasgow.

It is our pleasure as President and Secretary-General of WCP2022 to invite you to join us at IUPHAR's world leading global quadrennial pharmacology congress.

We are looking forward to celebrating the diversity of our community, from undergraduate pharmacologists to the world's leading authorities; from clinical pharmacologists working in national healthcare systems to innovators at the cutting edge of drug discovery in industry and academia.

In both its scientific programme and the make-up of its attendees, WCP2022 will be characterised by its focus on collaboration, innovation and discovery underpinned by scientific excellence. Glasgow, our host city, has strong connections to pharmacology and the life sciences. It is home to three universities, Glasgow, Strathclyde, and Glasgow Caledonian. All have strong life sciences departments with a major focus on pharmacology.

We are looking forward to welcoming you to Scotland, a country famed for its hospitality, its scenery, and its history. But as well as its rich traditions, Scotland is also forward-looking, dynamic, and – significantly for us – at the cutting edge of drug discovery.
