

Caledonian Clinical Pharmacology Society presents

Novel targets and technologies in clinical trials

Thursday 6th October 2022

Queen's Medical Research Institute,
University of Edinburgh,
47 Little France Crescent,
Edinburgh
EH16 4TJ

Hybrid meeting with the British Pharmacological Society CPT StR training program.

Meeting programme

09:30-10:00: Coffee and registration

Session 1

10:00-10:30: Dr Neeraj Dhaun The eye as a window to the kidney: old concepts, better tools and new horizons

10:30-11:00: Professor Stuart Forbes Cellular therapy for liver disease

11:00-11:30: Professor Kevin Dhaliwal Fluorescent imaging in clinical trials

11:30-12:00L Professor Isla Mackenzie Decentralised clinical trials

12:00-13:00 Lunch

Session 2

13:00-13:30: Professor Iain McInnes Deconstructing immune mediated inflammatory diseases – the therapeutic scalpel

13:30-14:00: Professor David Newby Clinical trials in aortic stenosis: chalk and cheese?

14:00-14:30: Professor Michael Eddleston Global health trials to prevent deaths from poisoning

14:30-15:00: Professor Jesse Dawson Medical device trials in stroke

15:00-15:30 Break

Session 3

15:30-15:50 Professor Priyanga Ranasinghe siRNA therapy: a novel approach for hypertension

15:50-16:10 Dr Melisande Addison Macrophage therapy for paracetamol induced acute liver injury

16:10-16:30 Dr Alan Cameron Preventing Recurrent Cardioembolic Stroke - Right Approach, Right Patient (PRECISE Study)

16:30 Close, followed by drinks