1. PREAMBLE

- 1.1. The British Pharmacological Society (the “Society”) was founded by its members in 1931. It is a registered charity and a company limited by guarantee.
- 1.2. As a limited company, the Society’s governing document is its Articles of Association (“Articles”), a legal document which sets out what the Society, as a charity and a company, can do in pursuit of the charitable object for which it was established (Article 4.1), namely “to promote and advance pharmacology (including without limitation clinical pharmacology)”.
- 1.3. The Articles also constitute a contract between the Society and its members, set out the voting rights of members and the conduct of general meetings, and detail the powers of management of the trustees or “Council” (who are also the directors of the company for the purposes of company law).
- 1.4. The Articles can only be amended by a 75% majority of Voting Members voting on a resolution in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, with the proviso that changing certain Articles would also need the approval of the Charity Commission (Article 7).
- 1.5. The Society can be dissolved in accordance with Article 8. If Council become aware that the Society is, or is likely to become, insolvent, then they must take immediate steps to resolve the issue, including dissolving the Society if necessary. In all other circumstances, dissolution should only follow a 75% majority vote of Council followed by a 75% majority vote of Voting Members at a General Meeting.
- 1.6. These Rules govern the day-to-day operations of the Society in more detail than can be dealt with in the Articles.
- 1.7. In the event of a conflict between these Rules and the Articles, the Articles shall prevail.

2. MEMBERSHIP AND MEMBERS

2.1. Categories of membership

2.1.1. Voting Members

Voting Members are members within the meaning of the Companies Act and are entitled to vote at General Meetings and in ballots. They have liability as set out in clause 2.5 (Article 10). The categories of Voting Members are:

- 2.1.1.1. Full Members, being individuals who are actively involved in pharmacology. They will generally either be educated to PhD level, have published in peer-reviewed journals, and have presented an abstract communication at one of the Society’s meetings (or at a meeting of an equivalent scientific or medical society); or, in the case of clinicians, will have certification in clinical pharmacology and therapeutics or a recognised training position in the speciality. However, Council also recognises that some candidates may be engaged in work which does not lead to publication, and will therefore consider alternative evidence of commitment to the discipline.

- 2.1.1.2. Fellows, who will have demonstrated distinction and peer recognition in pharmacology. The normal criteria are: contribution to pharmacology, demonstrated by career progression and publication record in suitable journals (or, for those in industry or outside mainstream research, by references from Fellows or Full Members); contribution to the Society, demonstrated by committee or editorial board work or attendance at and contribution to Society meetings; and at least five years as a Full Member of the Society. Fellows shall enjoy such additional rights and privileges (if any) as Council may from time to time decide;
- 2.1.1.3. Retired Members, being members who have retired from full-time employment. Retired Members shall enjoy all the privileges of Membership or Fellowship as the case may be without fee;
- 2.1.1.4. Honorary Fellows, who are Society members (or exceptionally non-members) distinguished for their sustained leadership role in science. Honorary Fellowship is the highest honour that the Society bestows. Honorary Fellows shall have all the privileges of Fellows.
- 2.1.1.5. Early Career Members, being postgraduate students working on a pharmacological topic, Foundation Doctors, Clinical Fellows, Clinical Pharmacology Scientists, Core Medical Trainees, Specialist Trainees in their first or second year, Pharmacists in their first or second year of qualification, Industry Scientists within five years of the award of a degree and Post-Doctoral Researchers within five years of the award of a PhD or early career pharmacologists who do not yet have the qualifications to become Full Members. Early Career Members shall automatically be designated Full Members at the appropriate time.

2.1.2. Non-voting Members

Non-voting Members are entitled to receive benefits of membership and to attend General Meetings, but they have no voting rights in general meetings or ballots and no liability in the case of the Society being wound up. The categories of Non-voting Members are:

- 2.1.2.1. Undergraduate Members, being undergraduates working on a pharmacological topic or medical students until the completion of their degree. Undergraduate Membership is normally available during the whole period of registration for a relevant bachelor's degree, until graduation, after which it can be converted to Early Career Membership.
- 2.1.2.2. Affiliate Members, being individuals from related disciplines, or those with pharmacology qualifications who no longer work in the field, or people who have been non-student Early Career Members for five years and who are unable or unwilling to become Full Members. They shall have the same rights and duties, and pay the same annual membership fee, as Early Career Members.

2.2. Applications for Membership

- 2.2.1. The format of applications and the supporting documentation required (if any) shall be set by the Awards Panel and details shall be published on the Society's web site.
- 2.2.2. No person shall be deemed to be a member of the Society unless the application or nomination procedure has been followed correctly, acceptance of the application/nomination has been notified to the member by the Society, and any subscriptions have been paid.
- 2.2.3. The Engagement Committee is responsible for approving all applications for Full Membership, Early Career Membership, Undergraduate Membership, Postgraduate Membership and Affiliate Membership.
- 2.2.4. Applications for Fellowship, which must be proposed and seconded by Fellows of the Society, are reviewed by the Honours & Fellows Panel and, where appropriate, a recommendation for approval will be made to the next succeeding meeting of Council. Subject to approval by Council, the member is admitted as a Fellow of the Society. The names of the Society's new Fellows are published annually in the national press.
- 2.2.5. Nominations for Honorary Fellowship may be made by any two Voting Members of the Society. Nominations must be on the official form and will be reviewed by the Honours & Fellows Panel, which will make an appropriate recommendation to Council. On approval by Council and subject to the agreement of the nominee, the nominee is admitted as an Honorary Fellow of the Society. The names of the Society's new Honorary Fellows are published annually in the national press.

2.2.6. Council may, at the Trustees' absolute discretion and acting in the best interests of the Society, refuse to admit any person as a member, provided the applicant has been given reasonable opportunity (in writing or in person, at Council's discretion) to state the grounds on which their application for membership should be accepted (Article 9.2).

2.2.7. Membership is not transferable between people (Article 9.3).

2.3. Membership and other fees

2.3.1. Each member (unless otherwise provided in these Rules) shall pay an annual subscription, the amount of which shall be determined from time to time by Council. The subscription shall be due and payable on 1 January each year or otherwise as Council might decide. A candidate for membership shall not become a member or be entitled to the privileges of membership until his or her subscription has been paid.

2.3.2. A member whose subscription is in arrears by more than three months, despite written notification by the Society, shall cease to be a member of the Society as detailed in Rule 2.4.3 below, forfeiting the privileges of membership including access to any of the Society's publications or discounted attendance at meetings, unless Council shall determine otherwise (Article 9.4).

2.3.3. No membership fees are payable by Honorary Fellows, Retired Members or Undergraduate Members.

2.3.4. In cases of financial hardship of any member, and in the case of career breaks, Council shall have the option of waiving that member's annual subscription temporarily.

2.4. Termination of membership

2.4.1. Council may terminate the membership of any member who they deem is guilty of any conduct that prejudices, or which may prejudice, the ability of the Society to further its charitable object, or which may cause any other damage to the Society, its property or any of its members, is in contravention of any of the Society's codes of conduct regarding membership in force from time to time, or which otherwise undermines or risks undermining the goodwill and reputation of the Society, provided the member concerned has been given a reasonable opportunity to present (in writing or in person, at the Council's discretion) any information that the member regards as relevant to the decision (Article 9.5.3).

- 2.4.2. A member may withdraw from membership of the Society by giving notice to the Society in writing, provided there are at least three Voting Members remaining (Article 9.5.1).
- 2.4.3. A member whose subscription is in arrears by more than three months shall cease to be a member of the Society, but may rejoin the Society on payment of the necessary subscription fee.
- 2.4.4. On termination of membership, the member's rights and benefits as a member shall terminate and the member shall have no right to a refund of all or any part of the subscription or other fees paid (Article 9.6), although the Society may offer refunds in exceptional circumstances.
- 2.4.5. A person's membership terminates when that person dies (Article 9.5.4).

2.5. Liability of Members

- 2.5.1 As a company the Society has limited liability. Every Voting Member of the Society undertakes to contribute an amount not exceeding £1 to the assets of the Society (Article 10.2), in the event that the Society is wound up while he or she is a Voting Member, or within one year after he or she ceases to be a Voting Member, for payment of the debts and liabilities of the Society contracted before he or she ceases to be a Voting Member, and of the costs, charges and expenses of winding up, and for the adjustment of the rights of the contributories amongst themselves.
